

Ductman Doug Improved the Air Quality in Our Home

Diane and I built a new home in Green Valley Ranch in 1991. The home was over fifteen years old and we had never checked out our ducts. We were in for some surprises when we met Doug King, Owner of Ductman Doug. My wife has always kept a very clean and well organized home, and we are very sensitive about the air quality in our home. We also do a lot of ministry and have prayed for a number of people over the years that have had allergies, asthma, and other respiratory problems. When we met Doug, we were eager to hear about his services. We had him clean the ducts and dryer exhaust, to remove any potential fire hazard. We are sure glad we did.

Doug came to our home, went right to work and was very professional in every way. He is seen here cleaning the return. He carefully explained how his equipment worked, and even had a camera and monitor to show us what was inside our ducts. We were astounded and had no idea how much dust accumulated in the ducts over the years. We didn't really realize how much we needed the service until my wife had a chance to see the insides of the ducts.

My office had always been on the cool side. When Doug opened the duct over my desk, he found a large piece of construction paper in the line. After the paper was removed and the line was thoroughly cleaned, the room was warmer, like the rest of the house. While the work was being accomplished, there was little disruption, and very little had to be moved. When Doug was finished, everything was in place as before, the home was clean, and we were very pleased with the results. We would heartily recommend that you contact Doug King and consider having the ducts cleaned in your home too.

Does your home have an indoor air quality problem?

Indoor air pollutants such as dust mites, mold, mildew, animal dander, construction dust, and smoke are just some of the irritants that are circulated through today's air tight homes.

These pollutants can aggravate asthma, allergies, and other respiratory problems.

What can you do about it? Clean your air ducts, just like the Witwers did.

A professionally trained and well equipped technician, Ductman Doug, can come out and inspect your duct system and even show you what is in your system. Doug can diagnose the problems, give you estimates for the service, and then take appropriate action to clean your ducts.
